Purpose

The International Conference on Gears and Transmissions in Garching/Germany is an established platform for manufacturers of and researchers on gears and transmission systems. At the ninth issue of the conference in 2021 you can learn about the latest developments and research results from the powertrain industry and academia.

State-of-the-art gears transmit power and convert torque and speed with high efficiency and power density at low noise and therefore determine the performance of mechanical powertrains. The obligation, to adapt gears to new demands due to changed conditions, such as the evolution of mobility and the energy revolution, continues to challenge the powertrain industry and requires further improvements of gears. The presentations at the conference will show that gears do have potential to be exploited and how gears can contribute to meet increasing requirements regarding energy efficiency, resource consumption and comfort requirements.

The exhibition accompanying the conference will offer the opportunity to monitor the state-of-the-art of powertrain applications and to network with your peers.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Garching/Munich!

With best regards
